About Sakshar India Foundation

Founded on the principles of care and compassion, Sakshar India Foundation is a non-political, and non-governmental voluntary organization, a beacon of positive change, and stands committed to fostering holistic development.

With a core belief that education, health, and empowerment are fundamental rights, we tirelessly strive to create a brighter future for underprivileged communities. We basically emphasize better health through promoting Yoga practice, the most ancient and natural way of living a life free from illnesses. Our health awareness campaigns and free medical camps underscore our dedication to well-being. Through educational initiatives, we provide quality learning opportunities to children who lack access. Empowering women through vocational training and addressing environmental concerns through awareness campaigns exhibit our multifaceted approach. Our Annapurna Yojana feeds hungry mouths, while our Sakhi Pad Bank promotes women's health. Collaborative efforts with children enrich lives through art, cleanliness drives, and social activism. Together, we sculpt a compassionate world where everyone thrives.

What we do

Child Education

We proudly served as a torchbearer of education. This year, we reached more children with learning opportunities. We provided free education along with free stationery materials like notebooks, pencils, and pens. These efforts helped underprivileged children study without any financial burden. Our goal remains to support every child's right to education and brighten their future through learning.

What we do

Pad Distribution & Awareness

Concerned about women's intimate health, we distributed sanitary pads to 200 women. We also educated them on menstrual hygiene and personal care. Many women are unaware of basic hygiene practices, so our campaign focused on raising awareness and breaking social taboos. This small effort helped promote dignity, health, and awareness among women in marginalized communities.

What we do

Water Bottle Distribution

As a small gift, we distributed water bottles to children. This was not just a present, but also a reminder to stay hydrated and healthy, especially in hot weather. The children were happy and felt valued. Such simple acts of kindness encourage better habits and show that we care about their well-being in everyday life.

What we do

Bag Distribution

A school bag is an essential item for every student. We distributed bags to many children to help them carry their books and supplies with ease. This not only supported their education but also inspired them to attend school regularly. Small things like this build confidence and encourage students to take their education seriously.

What we do

Voting Awareness Campaign

In many marginalized areas, people are less aware of their right to vote. Voting is a constitutional right for every Indian citizen. We organized awareness campaigns to educate people about the power of their vote. Our goal was to increase participation and ensure that more citizens understand how their vote helps shape the country's future.

What we do

Annapurna Yojana

Food is essential, a basic right for every individual. Yet, economic instability robs many underprivileged children of this necessity. Through our Annapurna Yojana, we tackle this challenge head-on. By providing free meals, we nourish not just their bodies, but also their futures. Our mission is to alleviate food insecurity, ensuring that no child goes to bed unfed and dreams are fueled by the promise of a nutritious meal.

What we do

Prayas Classes

Empowering underprivileged children with quality education is our mission. Prayas Classes, our initiative, offers free evening sessions, bridging the gap caused by economic limitations. Dedicated teachers go the extra mile, employing interactive demonstrations to ensure a profound grasp of fundamental subjects. Our aim is to provide not just learning, but a transformative educational experience that lights the path to a brighter future.

What we do

Collaborative Works

With the belief in “work together, achieve together,” Sakshar India Foundation has been proudly collaborating with other organizations like Marwari Yuva Manch. These collaborations strengthen our mission and expand our reach. Working together allows us to serve more people, share resources, and create a greater impact in society. Unity and teamwork continue to drive our efforts forward.

What we do

Environmental Awareness

The environment is our source of sustenance, deserving protection and swift responses to its challenges. Acknowledging this, we hold Sunday awareness campaigns spotlighting concerns like deforestation, climate change, and global warming. Collaboratively, we also engage in tree-planting initiatives. Our efforts extend to cleanliness drives with our children. Recently, we successfully initiated a cleanliness program in a Talab near the Hanuman Temple, aligning actions with our commitment to environmental well-being
